ALSPACH BROTHERS PLANNING TWO BIG WEEKEND RACES

CONCORD, N.C. – With their summer stay in North Carolina winding down, New Jersey brothers Zack and Trevor Alspach have an important semi-pro legends car doubleheader planned for Friday and Saturday. On Friday, the brothers will travel Hudson, North Carolina's Tri-County Motor Speedway for an INEX regional qualifier race for the semi-pro legends division. The winner of that race will automatically qualify for semi-pro national championship event, held Oct. 2-4 at Elko Speedway in Minnesota.

“Friday at Tri-County is an important race,” said Zack. “We’ve run better on the bigger tracks this season so I think we should do pretty well. I’m looking forward to going up to Tri-County and seeing what we can do. It’d be great to win the race and qualify for the nationals.”

On Saturday, the Alspachs will travel south to Braselton, Georgia's Lanier National Speedway for a regular show at the three-eighths mile oval.

“Lanier is always a fun track to go to. We’ve raced there quite a few times over the summer and we won a semi-pro feature there earlier in the year. It’ll be nice to get some good racing in before we head back to New Jersey. It’s been a great summer down here in North Carolina,” Zack added.

Zack, 17, and Trevor, 15, Alspach are legends car racers from Willingboro, N.J. Former micro-sprint racers, the Alspach brothers have a number of feature victories in legends cars since beginning their tenure in the INEX-sanctioned class in 2007.
